

Gregg B. Franklin
Department of Physics
Carnegie Mellon University

gbfranklin@cmu.edu

Education

B.S. with Honors in Physics, University of Washington (1976)
Ph.D. in Nuclear Physics, Massachusetts Institute of Technology (1980)

Professional Appointments

Research Assistant, MIT (1976-1980)
Research Staff, MIT-LNS (1980-1981)
Research Associate, Carnegie Mellon (1981-1984)
Physics Faculty, Carnegie Mellon (1984-present)
Visiting Associate Professor, U. of Washington (1994-1995)
MCS Associate Dean for Faculty and Graduate Affairs (2002-2009)
Head, Department of Physics (2008-2013)

Honors and Selected Professional Activities

Phi Beta Kappa (1976)
Paul M. Higgs Prize for Outstanding Laboratory Performance (1976)
Principle Investigator, Carnegie Mellon Medium Energy Group (1992-present)
Cospokesperson for AGS experiments E813, E836, and E885.
Member JLab G⁰, Gen, HAPPEX, PREX, SBS, APEX, and Hall A collaborations
DOE Review Panels: Office of Science PECAST nominations (2011), Nuclear Laboratory Review (2010), Early Career Proposal Review (2009)
Selected Talks: Calorimetry for Form Factor Measurements, DOE SuperBigbite
Review Committee (2011), Einstein and Relativity, Allegheny Observatory
Public Lecture (2011)